

DREW CUNNINGHAM

August 2020

drewcunningham@outlook.com

Education

2020      B.A. magna cum laude in English (with high honors), minors in German and Philosophy, Haverford College

Employment

Summer 2020    Research Assistant, Department of German and German Studies, Haverford College
Spring 2020    Teaching Assistant, Department of German and German Studies, Haverford College
Fall 2018      Researcher/Curator, Department of English and Hurford Center for the Arts and Humanities, Haverford College
Spring 2018    Writing Tutor, Mentoring and Student Teaching (MAST), Haverford College

Scholarship

Senior thesis, entitled: “‘This Intolerable Incubus’: The Melancholia of ‘Bartleby, the Scrivener’,” advised by Professor Gus Stadler

“Americans Abroad: Citizenship, the Law, and Early-20th Century Travel to France,” published in the Haverford College Law Review, 2018-2019

Research and Teaching Fields and Interests

Nineteenth and early-twentieth century American literature and culture; queer theory; gender and sexuality studies; critical race theory; psychoanalysis; critical theory; late-twentieth century German history and culture; German grammar; composition

Events

Researcher/curator, “The Lynching of Zachariah Walker: A Local Legacy” exhibit, in conjunction with Professor Lindsay Reckson and the “Legacy of Lynching” exhibit at the Cantor Fitzgerald Gallery at Haverford College, 2018

Grants

Fulbright English Teaching Assistantship, Germany 2020-2021

Honors and Awards

Phi Beta Kappa

Newton Prize in English Literature, Haverford College

William Hartzell Trust Scholarship, Haverford College